

Long Island

2010, 1st Edition
by Jason R. Rich

Suffolk County

THE HEDGES INN

$$$-$$$$

74 James Ln., East Hampton

(631) 324-7101

www.thehedgesinn.com

The best way to describe the Hedges is as an upscale, relatively small inn that features top-notch modern amenities and a sophisticated decor. Here you'll find extremely friendly and attentive service, and an overall welcoming and nonpretentious attitude. The inn itself is located just a few blocks (walking distance) from the main shopping area of East Hampton. The grounds are perfectly landscaped and tranquil, and free parking is available. The Hedges Inn is housed within a homestead that dates back to 1652. The property has served as an inn since 1870; however, everything about it has been fully modernized, while maintaining a classic and traditional ambiance. Today the inn is one of the most luxurious and comfortable places to stay in the Hamptons.

The first thing you'll notice when you step through the front door is the cleanliness. You literally won't find a speck of dust anywhere, and everything will be in its proper place. You'll experience the comforts of home right away. This inn's attention to detail carries over into each of the 12 guestrooms, where the furnishings are posh and comfortable. Within the rooms are extremely comfortable beds, a bathroom with all-new fixtures and amenities from Bulgari, and a flat-screen television, along with other furnishings that contribute to the decor yet are also highly functional. Each room has its own heating/air-conditioning unit, Wi-Fi Internet access, telephones, and plush bathrobes. Upon check-in, Godiva chocolates and bottled water will be waiting in your room. As you'd expect, the breakfast offered at the Hedges Inn goes well beyond a traditional continental breakfast. You'll have plenty of options as you relax in the main dining room or outside on the large and nicely furnished deck. There are also several common indoor areas for guests to relax, watch television, and socialize.

Whether visiting for a night, a weekend, or a full week, this is the perfect place for couples to stay for a romantic getaway or when exploring Long Island's wine country. The inn is located in the heart of the Hamptons and a short drive from Montauk, so it's conveniently located to just about everything in Suffolk County.